Definitions -- Unless Otherwise Expressly Provided.

(1) The term associated person means any partner, officer, director (or any person occupying a similar status or performing similar functions) or any natural person directly or indirectly controlling, or controlled by, an applicant or registrant (other than employees whose functions are only clerical or ministerial).

(2) The term home office or principal office shall mean the place where the chief or principal affairs and business of the applicant or registrant are transacted.

(3) The term main office shall mean the primary branch office located in this state, provided that the applicant or registrant does not maintain a home or principal office in this state as otherwise defined.

(4) The term branch office shall mean any office of an applicant or registrant located in Alabama and other than a principal or home office, which is owned or controlled by an applicant or registrant and engaged in the securities business. In determining whether an office or the activities of a person associated with an applicant or registrant in an area constitutes a branch office, the following standards shall be used:

(a) The applicant or registrant, directly or indirectly, contributes a portion of the operating expenses of any address used by a person associated with an applicant or registrant engaged in the securities business, whether commercial office space or residence. Operating expenses, for purposes of this standard shall include items normally associated with the cost of operating the business; or

(b) The applicant or registrant authorizes a listing in any publication or other media, including a professional dealer's digest or a telephone directory, designating an address as an office.

(c) The Commission may classify any address of an applicant or registrant as a branch office if the Commission determines that the above standards are reasonably met.

(5) The term material information or adequate information shall mean that information required to provide full disclosure of financial and other information about the company and/or its securities which would enable a prudent individual to make an informed investment decision.

(6) The term commission or remuneration shall mean any compensation or financial benefit, direct or indirect, fixed or contingent, paid or received to or from any person, including reimbursement of expenses, in connection with a solicitation of any prospective buyer.

(7) The term principal shall mean any person associated with an applicant or registrant actively engaged in the management of the applicant's or registrant's securities business, including supervision, solicitation, conduct of business or the training of persons associated with an applicant or registrant for any of these functions. Such persons shall include sole proprietors, partners, officers, directors and branch managers.

830-X-2-.06 Advertising And Sales Literature.

(1) Every advertisement and all sales literature used in connection with an offering of securities registered under this Act, must be authorized in writing by the Commission before being placed or used in newspapers or other means of public communication unless it is within the requirements and rules promulgated by the National Association of Securities Dealers, concerning advertisements for use in newspapers or any other means of public communication or satisfies the requirements of the Securities Act of 1933 any statement of policy by the Securities and Exchange Commission concerning advertisements and sales literature, or contains no more than the following:

- (a) Date of issuance or release
- (b) Name and address of issuer
- (c) Identity or title of securities
- (d) Amount of offering
- (e) Brief statement of general character

(f) Address where prospectus or offering circular may be obtained

(2) The use of any sales material in such a fashion as to be deceptive or misleading is prohibited. An example of such practice is as follows: A distribution of any nonfactual data, material or presentation based on conjuncture, unfounded or extravagant claims or assertions in any brochure or display by words, pictures, graphs or otherwise designed or tending to supplement, detract from, supersede or defeat the purpose or effect of the prospectus or disclosures therein.
